Statement Accompanying CPNI Certification

iNetworks Group, Inc. ("iNetworks") hereby explains how its procedures comply with the requirements set forth in Section 64.2001 et seq. of the FCC's Rules.

iNetworks is a Virtual Network Provider providing resold private line data circuits to its customers, having purchased those circuits from telecommunications carriers, such as Verizon, on a "wholesale" basis. iNetworks' customers are government agencies and telecommunications carriers who require additional data capacity for some period of time. iNetworks has no information about the data transmitted on the circuits it supplies. Accordingly, iNetworks does not collect and thus does not possess any of the information defined as Customer Proprietary Network Information ("CPNI") in Section 222(f) of the Communications Act, beyond the points connected by the data circuits iNetworks resells.

iNetworks does maintain the information necessary to bill its customers on a monthly, flat rate basis. Such billing information is maintained in password-protected shared drive computer programs. Only employees with a need to do so are granted access to billing information.

iNetworks instructs all its employees on the need to maintain the confidentiality of all corporate information, including billing information. Should it begin to collect individually identifiable CPNI at any time, it will institute all the protections and safeguards required by the FCC's Rules.
